

Financial Help

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has approved 100% of the contributions toward the removal of old fillings and debris along the beach from Bayou Caddy to the mouth of North Beach at the river.

Hancock County Board of Supervisors were successful in having the Mississippi State Legislature authorize it to appropriate $5,000.00 for the beach clean-up project. The Board advertised for bids and acceptable bid was $6,500.00. Just 1,500.00 more than they are authorized to pay.

We cannot let this opportunity pass. This will be a contract job and a complete one, so we are seeking assistance from the influential residents of this area to make up the $1,500.00 difference. This is a civic matter and its accomplishment will not only enhance the attractiveness of Hancock County's beach front, but will generally improve property values in the whole section. Won't you help?

Mail your contributions to Mr. Ray Gordon, Treasurer, P. O. Box 238, Waveland, Mississippi. Make checks payable to Beach Improvement Committee. DO NOT DELAY—DO IT NOW. Thanks.

YOUR NEWSPAPER IS FREEDOM'S GUARDIAN

by J. Barry Wall, Editor and Publisher Farmville (Va) Herald (Winner of Honorable Mention for N. N. W. promotion for weekly newspapers.)

Moveable type had the greatest influence on civilization of any invention in history. Prior to 1450, the common man was held in bondage through ignorance, there being no vehicle through which information could be preserved or disseminated. Philosophers and teachers produced fine civilization in ancient Athens and Rome by teaching a relatively few students by word of mouth, but the general public remained in ignorance and in bondage. Providently the first book printed from moveable type was the Bible and for the first time in history the masses were able to read, to discuss and to interpret for themselves the Word of God. The truth made them free.

History, philosophy, customs, science, and teachings of the ages were made available to the people through the medium of printing. Today, a vast storehouse of knowledge is to be found in every village, town and city in the many libraries.

Great universities have been established; science has developed; inventions to ease the hardships of life have been made—the common man has been provided the tools by which his freedom is perpetuated. Thus the printed word is the basis of all knowledge—it disseminates and perpetuates knowledge.

Newspapers followed quickly the invention of moveable type. In the intervening years newspapers have led the parade of progress in all fields by keeping the masses of people informed of daily events, and through interpretation of those events. With the advent of other media, first radio, and television, newspaper circulations have expanded phenomenally. The printed word is the basis of mass information, and mass selling; therefore mass production.

Newspapers have a prime responsibility, namely to publish, accurate, impartial information and details of news. Editors have a responsibility to interpret the news. Just as moveable type brought freedom to the masses the newspapers of the United States, free and unfettered have the vast responsibility of guarding this freedom.

Freedom of speech, freedom of lawful assembly, freedom of worship are basic in a free nation. The printed word will remain supreme. Your newspaper is freedom's guardian.

Mail-Volume Record Reached

For the first time in the nation's history, the volume of mail handled by the Post Office in Hancock County during the fiscal year of 1963, ending June 30, reached a record level of 1,714,000 pieces, according to a report of the Post Office in Bay St. Louis, Miss., which was made available to Postmaster Andy J. Beck.

Although subject to last minute fluctuations, the year's total has been estimated at 1.7 billion pieces, which includes about 1 billion pieces of parcel post. It was an increase of nearly 25 per cent over the corresponding figure for 1962 when the annual volume was 1,378,000 pieces.

During this same period, it was estimated that the revenues of the Post Office also have shown an increase of 25 per cent, from $2,780,000 in 1962 to $3,475,000 in 1963.

There is not much we can do to increase the volume of mail we handle from day to day or how much people are making use of the "Post Office Service," Postmaster Beck said. "But the whole Department is busy in devising ways to do the job more efficiently but more expensively. As I recall it, it was the way President Eisenhower outlined the principal objectives of the Department when he was sworn in in 1953, and that's the way we've been operating ever since."

Postmaster Beck said that the volume of mail handled annually, the volume increase during this period amounted to only 11 per cent. The explanation, he said, is that the volume of mail is based on thousands of man-years—are first workmen on a separate basis. As an example, while the mail volume increased by 16 billion pieces, the number of man-years increased by 11 billion pieces.

It should also be mentioned that there has been a steady and substantial increase in "city carriers" each year as compared with 1964 to 28.2 per cent in the estimates. This increase has been essential to keep pace with the ever-expanding growth of cities as well as the establishment of new ones. City delivery service has been started in 800 communities in addition to the extension of literally hundreds of routes which were already in operation. This required the employment of 31,000 more letter carriers to serve approximately 1,000,000 more American families and 700,000 more business concerns.

There is perhaps no better way of demonstrating the Department's improving efficiency than by pointing out how steadily the annual volume handled per man-year of employment—excluding city carriers—has been increasing since 1945. In that year the total handled by one man was 132,000 pieces of mail. For 1960 the corresponding figure was 157,000.

It is of course true that all the national service has made it necessary to take on many new workers and that our total increased from 506,520 in 1963 to 648,000 on June 30, 1964, but as pointed out in the original report, the workload increase during the period was nearly 25 per cent.

One way of thinking that's been in a nutshell—and I don't doubt it there has been a very like it in the entire history of the Post Office—is that it is impossible to govern the importance of this service not only for today's operation but for the years that lie ahead.

In a recent speech on the subject by the Postmaster General he brought out that by 1970 our population is expected to be 205,000,000 and that our annual mail volume by then will be more than 90 billion pieces. The U. S. Bureau of Standards, an entirely separate organization, estimates that our volume will be doubled within the next 25 years and it all fits into the same picture.

"It was in another speech about the Post Office Department that another official expressed his sentiments about the situation like this: 'We are proud of our record. We have no apologies to make and no regrets to express. What has been done was once said to be impossible. Now it is history.' These are also my sentiments."

Included among items cited by Postmaster Beck as recent accomplishments by the Department were the following:

Voiceless Mississippians Now Able To Talk With New Voice Device

Many previously voiceless Mississippians are now able to talk with a new device.

The new voice, according to J. C. Dabney, Southern Bell Manager in an electric larynx just developed by his company.

Available on a non-profit basis, Mr. Dabney said, the new device will aid those who without the power of speech as a result of paralysis or surgical removal of the larynx and must depend either on esophageal speech or an artificial larynx in order to talk.

The electronic larynx resembles a streamlined electric shaver, contoured to the hand and designed to be held against the outside of the throat while being operated. It transmits sound waves into the throat cavity replacing those normally produced by air passing over the vocal cords.

Speech is produced by forming words with the lips and tongue just as in normal conversation. There are two models, one with a high pitch to stimulate the female voice and the other with a lower pitch for men. Both are provided with a finger control which enables the user to vary the pitch of his voice over a half-octave range in order to produce more natural inflections of speech and emphasis on words or phrases.

The larynx is powered by self-contained mercury batteries of the type used in transistor radios. Battery life ranges up to several months.

Information regarding the new larynx may be obtained at the Gulfport Telephone Office, Mr. Dabney said.

Record Enrollment Of 479 Freshmen And Sophomores At PRJC

Poplarville, Miss., Oct. 6—A record enrollment of 479 freshmen and sophomore students has been attained for the first semester at Pearl River Junior College, according to Marvin R. White, registrar.

Students attending represent 14 area counties, the largest number of 148 from Pearl River, followed by Marion with 82, Hancock with 36, Lamar with 36, Jefferson Davis with 34. These five counties support the institution.

There were a total of 75 out of state and foreign students from Alabama, Florida, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Missouri, New Jersey, Tennessee and Texas.

tions but for the years that lie ahead.

Included among items cited by Postmaster Beck as recent accomplishments by the Department were the following:

Established the first large-scale program of automatic mail handling by machinery on a nationwide basis.

Developed the "airlift" program which speeds up the delivery of approximately one letter out of every 17 on a "space available" basis.

SOCIAL SECURITY PROTECTION

Your Social Security Number is your policy number in the world's largest insurance program. Mr. Jerome H. Drane, Manager of the Gulfport Social Security District Office, stated today.

Even though the social security account number holder is not actually issued a policy his account number card represents one. The insurance premium is paid by way of the social security tax. His employer deducts this from each pay check and matches the amount with an employer contribution. The self employed account number holder makes one annual premium payment on his social security at the time he files his income tax return.

Social Security coverage assures protection to the family. A widow and children may receive monthly payments up to $254. A disabled person and his dependents may receive up to the same amount each month. The retired worker and wife can receive up to $180 monthly.

For further information visit the Social Security Administration Office, if you prefer, write the office for the pamphlet "Your Social Security."

Monti-Collawn Wedding

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church was the setting Saturday morning for the wedding of Miss Mary Catherine Collawn of Naples, Florida, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Yeager of Statesboro, Ga., and Mr. Thomas Anthony Monti son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Monti of 332 deMontluzin Avenue, Bay St. Louis.

Rev. Father Kevin Reid performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with vases of white gladioli and mums. White satin bouquets marked the pews.

Professor Hemmersbach played a program of nuptial music during the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white ballerina length gown of white organza over satin fashioned with a full skirt, a lace bow at the front of the waistline and a lace jacket with round neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. She wore white satin slippers. Her short veil of imported illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a pearl prayer book topped with an arrangement of white sweethearts roses and a rosary.

Mrs. H. L. Bour, Jr., of Hattiesburg, Miss., was matron of honor. Miss Betty Reagan of Kokomo, Miss., was bridesmaid; and Miss Mimi Monti, sister of the groom was junior bridesmaid.

They wore identical street length dresses of yellow moire taffeta fashioned with full skirts. The fitted bodices were made with rounded necklines, cap sleeves and a satin bow at the waistline. Their headpieces were yellow satin and net with a bow on either side. They carried Colonial bouquets of bronze pompoms.

Jim Bungardner of Hattiesburg, was best man, and Billy Monti, brother of the groom and Millard Bradford were groomsmen. Sidney Doussan of Bay St. Louis served as usher.

Following the ceremony the bride placed a bouquet of white carnations on the altar, of the Blessed Mother.

White mums, glads, potted plants and white wedding bells trimmed the Parish Hall for the reception.

The bride's table, covered with a white hand-made linen cloth, was centered with a tiered wedding cake surrounded by white blossoms and fern. Silver candelabra holding white tapers were on either side.

Mrs. Yeager chose for her daughter's wedding a medium blue silk organza fashioned on princess lines. The pleated bodice was caught by a flat bow at the high waistline. The V back neckline emphasized a flowing drape attached at the waist and hemline. Beige accessories and a white carnation corsage completed her attire.

The mother of the groom chose a medium blue rayon and cotton sheath, black accessories, white gloves and a white carnation shoulder bouquet.

The bride and groom cut the first slice of cake it was served by Mrs. Ivan Bradford and Mrs. Charles Rhodes.

Mrs. Alan Young, aunt of the groom, kept the bride's register. Tea girls were Misses Anne Bryant, Jewel Bilbo, Jo Ann McCullough, Mary Alice Kingston and Virginia Bréland.

For traveling the bride wore a Blue wool suit, black accessories and a white rose corsage.

On their return from a wedding trip to the Gulf Coast they will make their home in Hattiesburg, Miss.

The bride made her home in Naples, Florida for six and a half years where she attended and graduated from Naples High School in 1958. She was on the Pan American Gymnastics team at Chicago in 1950 and was on the U. S. Olympic Squad Gymnastics team at West Point Academy, New York, in 1960.

Mr. Monti, a graduate of St. Stanislaus, received his degree from Mississippi Southern College at Hattiesburg in 1960 and was commissioned a 2nd lieutenant in the U. S. Army. He will enter active duty at Fort Bliss, Texas, January 2, 1961. He is presently employed by Channel 17, WDAW-TV Hattiesburg.

are all the perfect accoutrements of the I. R. A. gunman. That Mitchum was born in Bridgeport Conn., and that there is a scarcity of Celtic ancestors in his family tree is beside the point.

Dan O'Herlihy, who plays a fanatical I. R. A. leader in "The Night Fighters" is of course, a native of Ireland born in Wexford, reared and educated in Dublin. One of Ireland's great gifts to Hollywood, O'Herlihy made his mark several years ago with a bravura performance in the title role of "Robinson Crusoe," in which he was on-screen for all the film's 90 minutes, 60 of them alone.
